For several years, people have been looking for a product that could fit over you head, while at the same time catching all of your hair, keeping it protected and in place and washing it for you. Stella McCartney always leads by example. This spring she introduced the Stella McCartney WAVE Flat Iron ($440) which not only gives you the protection but all of the benefits of the flat iron. The temperature of the flat iron steam heats from 290 to 390 degrees. The technology in this flat iron was designed with you in mind. The flat iron is at the ideal setting of 125 degrees, keeping your hair from getting overdone and making sure you get the maximum effect out of the blow drying technique. This technology keeps you at the same temperature all throughout your blow drying. It then moves to the next higher setting, giving you optimum heat. By cutting off the heat before your hair completely cools, it protects it, keeping your hair soft and healthy. The result: Weave-in-a-minute styling. A second plus in the WAVE is that this flat iron comes with three interchangeable plates. This means your hair doesn't have to be the same length throughout the drying process. You can make your hair curly when needed, straight when needed and curly and straight for those occasions when your hair needs to be both smooth and bouncy. These plates slide in and out of the flat iron when you change your style. This gives you the ability to use a smaller than usual plate on the ends of your hair where you want to keep it extra curly to add volume and a larger plate on the bottom of your hair, where you want to style it and set it for the day. The alkylating agent temozolomide (dacarbazine), which has a mechanism of action similar to that of carmustine (BCNU) and chlorozotocin (CZT), was tested for antitumor activity in murine and human xenograft models.

Clonogenic assays were used to determine the activity of temozolomide against MCF-7 human breast cancer cells and 9L-gliosarcoma cells. Tumor cells were implanted into Balb/c or nude mice (4- to 6-week-old), and treatment with temozolomide was initiated on day 7, when tumor growth was approximately 100 mm³ in size. Tumor volume was measured twice weekly. A single dose of temozolomide (60 mg/kg, intraperitoneally) was more effective than BCNU or CZT 3da54e8ca3
