What's new in Fifa 22:

- New engine: The engine powering FIFA has been completely rebuilt for a better representation of player dribbling, player movement and collisions. It also features elastic reaction physics and highly sophisticated sliders for all gestures made by players.
- New control: Controls and animations have been evolved for a smoother experience which means more players are visible at any moment. Sights are represented by five parameters and can be set to display the exact angle of the player's body movement depending on the position on the pitch. AI is also improved allowing for more intelligent opponents.
- New ball: The ball has been modified. While maintaining its characteristics, the ball is more aggressive and rebounds from the walls more often.
- More authentic ball contact: The deformation of the ball when striking a surface has been improved.
- Better game feel with enhanced animations: Significantly enhanced offensive and defensive animations. Player animations have also been improved greatly in terms of close-up, close-range and long-range on-ball and off-ball movements. And the ball's responsive behaviour has been further enhanced.
- Fighter jet: The fighter jet has been tweaked to give the feeling of a real fight. (Also new )
- Spread and Pump Fake: The spread and pump fake mechanic has been further enhanced.
- Physical Player AI: AI-controlled player behaviours such as possession, direction control, build up, pressing the ball, and personal tricks have been reworked to better fit into key moments on the pitch.
- Elastic collision: The impact lines of a finite element contact solver are tuned to better capture collisions with the opponent, ball or wall, including in the final moments of a game and other tricky situations. This also improves the behaviour of the ball when colliding with other surfaces, especially in more than one plane, such as the ground or a wall.
- Ball Impact: While controlling a skill shot or free kick, there will be a more intuitive method to control the spin of the ball. Multiple times you will notice the ball behaving and bouncing differently within the game
