You can either install it yourself, or download it from the official site and then unzip it, as the installation is very simple. SkyMI basically consists of an application launcher and an editor, which is necessary to add your Skype IDs and set up the application. When you launch the software, you will see an application launcher, which offers you a list of accounts you have on your computer. You can add more accounts by opening the menu of the program and clicking on the Plus button, which will open a dialog window in which you can specify the Skype IDs and the master password for each account. To add an ID, simply select the desired ID and click Add. The master password will be in the form of a string, so you can simply enter it in the provided field and click OK. You can always disable it or change it, if you feel the need to do so. Once you have added your Skype IDs, you can click on the Installs icon and the program will go into setup mode. You can simply run the program without specifying anything and it will automatically detect your Skype ID accounts, since it's the only required data. When the program has completed its work, you will see a window in which the Skype IDs are listed along with the date and time that was last used. SkyMI not only enables you to add more accounts, but it also allows you to check their status and remove them from the list of applications if you want. This makes the software very easy to use and you can easily add and remove accounts as many times as you like. The only limit is the number of accounts you have set up. SkyMI also has an option to connect to the Skype IM network automatically, which not only prevents the application from loading every time, but it also makes sure that you always have your Skype IDs ready to
