This is the program that iBillboards have begun to appear across Detroit, announcing the show's run next year: The Billboards for the forthcoming Bob Seger and the Silver Bullet Band will go up shortly at the intersection of Woodward and Seven Mile on the city's east side and in Warren between The Muskegon and 19 Mile roads. At the same time, early plans are also being mulled for other billboards announcing the tour's first American city visit. Originally, the show's run was slated for June or July. Detroit-based road manager Jeff Taylor says the April 20-23 weekend date, which was confirmed Monday, should make the show a top seller. Tickets will go on sale to the public later this week. They'll be $60-$150. "It will be one of the top draws," Taylor says. "We're over the moon." Bob Seger and the Silver Bullet Band, whose last tour was in 2011, are touring in support of the new album "Face the Promise." Produced with producer Joe Chiccarelli and "Thanks for All the Love," a song recorded with longtime friend and fellow rocker Bruce Springsteen, "Face the Promise" is the former singer-songwriter's first studio recording in six years and was recorded by producer Gary Smith at his own Red House Studios in Detroit. The new album is the 50-year-old singer's 26th studio album and will be released on the Roadrunner Records label. One of his eight Grammy nominations was for the song "Night Moves," which Seger performed at the show in The Fillmore in Detroit in 1989. Bob Seger has been nominated for two Grammys and has been inducted into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame. Seger is the only artist to perform at The Fillmore in its 21-year history and he said Saturday, "It will be an 595f342e71
