Reaver Pro .New Delhi: In a big relief to the Tata group, the Supreme Court on Friday ruled that it could not be held liable for the death of a three-year-old boy who suffered a blunt force injury while in the custody of a Tata Motors worker. The court also ruled that the man could not be held liable for the death of the boy because of a failure in the health department to follow procedures. The Tata Motors worker claimed that he was merely trying to discipline the child when he slammed the boy's face against a glass partition, causing a head injury. A bench of Justices Madan B Lokur and Deepak Gupta, however, observed that there was no evidence of negligence on the part of the worker. "We are not saying that the man cannot be tried. We are saying that the company cannot be held liable for this accident. We are not saying that he should not be tried,💎f988f36e3a
