The first step to being able to play a sound on a particular date is to write a calendar event to the Event Database. After that, you can make a calendary reminder. Then you can use the calendar in the calendary manager to play the event on the designated day. Key Features: Real-time event reminder Add events to the database and set them to play later. Set an alarm for a certain event Set reminder to one or more days of the week Can be set to fire at a particular time or when a contact has been updated. Call Recording feature Allows you to record a call and save it to the database. Date rotation The calendar can be used with any calendar as the primary calendar, however the database cannot be opened in one calendar, and the data cannot be modified in a way that causes it to switch to another calendar. Voice output Simple interface to display the voice of the last person recorded, if this option is enabled. Subsequent contacts to a contact Allows you to view the subsequent events. Import and export data Allows you to move calendar events between databases. Import and export calendar events, as well as phone numbers. Export and import calendar events.
