Photoshop's Eraser tool works more like a brush or sponge than a pencil or eraser. The Eraser tool is a multipurpose tool with many uses. By dragging the tool, you can paint or isolate areas of the image from other elements, bridges, or unwanted areas of the background. You can use the tool to blend, blend out, replace color, or replace white. The Fringe Removal Tool is mainly used to fringe unwanted elements such as hair, when that area is not interesting to the viewer. About to the right of the Fringe Removal Tool is the Gradient Fade Tool. This tool lets you create an effect like an extreme soft middle from an image. The Move Tool lets you move, copy, delete, select, and resample image and mask elements while maintaining their original location. The Watermark Tool makes it easy to add a copyright or watermark to a new image. The Adjustment Brush tool makes it possible to use a mouse or trackpad to make lots of fine, accurate adjustments to an image. The tool's sliders let you make similar adjustments as you'd do with the Size and Adjustment sliders in Lightroom. You can also create and mix adjustments (make a number of different corrections in one preset) which is better than using only one preset in Lightroom. Make sure to select Artistic Effects > Nik Color Efex Pro to get some of the powerful enhancements available in Nik software. By incorporating features from the software into Photoshop, we can take advantage of all those enhancements with just a few clicks. With deep color and sharpness and excellent color matching, Nik is a great complement to life-like color correction in Photoshop. e3d0a04c9c

Introduced today, Share for Review enables the editing and review of a project in Photoshop across multiple devices, with complete control over a single master file. Additional features include:

- Superior collaboration: The final edit is displayed in a single browser window, eliminating the need to open multiple panes, tabbed windows or split screens.
- Ongoing collaboration: The browser window updates as the collaborators make changes, so all changes are reflected in the master file. There's no need to save the linked file or restart the browser.
- Resolution independence: The browser window updates even when the project is viewed at different scales on different devices. The browser window also updates even when the project is viewed on mixed resolutions from different devices.
